Use of Personal Information

We may use or disclose personal information for one or more of the following business purposes:

- To perform our obligations and provide consumers with the information, products or services they have requested.
- For internal uses that are aligned with our consumer relationships and our consumers' expectations.
- To provide consumers with required email alerts, notices, and information that is of interest to them.

- For testing and product development, and to improve our websites and present consumer content.
- As necessary to protect the rights, property and safety of our consumers, Artisan Partners, and others.
- To detect security incidents, protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal activity, or prosecute those responsible for such activities.
- To respond to law enforcement requests, court orders, or governmental regulations.
- As described to you when collecting your personal information, as detailed in this Notice, or as otherwise set forth under the CPRA or other applicable laws.

Sharing Personal Information

We may disclose personal information to a third party for a business purpose. When we disclose personal information for a business purpose, we enter into a contract that describes the business purpose and requires the service provider to keep consumer personal information confidential and not to use it for any purpose except the performance of the contract.

In the preceding twelve (12) months, we have disclosed the following categories of personal information for a business purpose:

Category A: Personal information categories listed in the California Customer Records statute.

Category B: Identifiers.

Category C: Characteristics of Protected Classifications under California or Federal law.

Category D: Commercial Information.

Category E: Internet or other similar network activity.

Category F: Geolocation data.

Category G: Professional or employment-related information.

We disclose personal information for a business purpose to the following categories of third parties:

- Our affiliates.
- Service providers.
- Third parties to whom you or your agents authorize us to disclose your personal information in connection with products or services we provide.

In the preceding 12 months we have not sold any personal information.

Artisan retains your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected and to comply with legal, regulatory, operational and internal policy requirements. During that period, we use a combination of physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to maintain and secure your personal information.

Your CRPA Rights

The CPRA provides you with specific rights regarding your personal information.

CPRA Data Access and Data Portability Rights

You have the right to know certain information about our collection, use, and disclosure of your personal information for the 12-month period preceding the date of your request. You also have the right to request that we provide you with specific pieces of your personal information. These rights are subject to certain exceptions.

Upon receipt of your request, and after we verify your identity, we may provide you with information about the following (unless an exception applies):

- The categories of personal information we collected about you.
- The categories of sources for the personal information we collected about you.
- Our business or commercial purpose for collecting, selling or sharing that personal information.
- The categories of third parties with whom we share that personal information.
- The specific pieces of personal information we collected about you (data portability request).

Correction and Deletion Request Rights

You have the right to request that we correct inaccurate personal information and the right to request the deletion of personal information we have collected about you and have retained, subject to certain exceptions. We may deny your deletion request if retaining your personal information is necessary for us or our service providers to comply with a legal obligation; to establish, exercise, or defend legal claims; or your personal information is subject to an exception or an exemption under the CPRA.

Exercising Access, Data Portability, Correction and Deletion Rights

To make an access, data portability, correction or deletion request of your personal information under CPRA, please submit your request to us by either:

- Calling us at 1.800.399.1770.
- Completing the Contact Us form.

Only you, or a person you authorize to act on your behalf, may make a CPRA request related to your personal information. You may also make a CPRA request on behalf of your minor child. We must receive sufficient information that allows us to reasonably verify you are the person about whom we collected personal information or you are that person's authorized representative. To authorize another person to make a CPRA request on your behalf, you must provide that person with written permission clearly describing their authority to make a CPRA request on your behalf. That individual must also be able to verify their identity and provide us with proof of their authority. We cannot respond to your CPRA request or provide you with personal information if we cannot verify your identity, your representative's identity, or your authority to make the CPRA request. We may require additional identifying information if we are unable to confirm your identity or authority.

You may make up to two CPRA requests for access or data portability within a 12-month period. Making a CPRA request does not require you to have or to create an account with us and we will only use the personal information provided in a CPRA request to verify the requestor's identity and their authority to make the CPRA request. Additionally, we are committed to ensuring your right to receive non-discriminatory treatment for the exercise of your rights conferred by the CPRA.

Response Timing and Format

We shall endeavor to respond to a verified CPRA request within 45 days unless there are grounds for extending our response time by up to an additional 45 days. In the event of an extension, we will explain to you why the extension is necessary. As explained above, your ability to access or delete your personal information may be limited, as required or permitted by applicable law.
