Commentary

Markets are solidly in the black QTD led by the US, with foreign developed stocks and emerging markets trailing. Investors' concerns about ratcheting trade tensions seem to be easing, boosting markets. Meanwhile, major developed-world central banks have generally indicated they will pause on further rate hikes pending strong economic data. Strength across sectors has been broad-based, led by technology, industrials and energy—the latter as oil prices have bounced sharply to start the year. Utilities, health care and staples are the bottom-performing sectors QTD. From a style perspective, growth leads value, and smaller stocks are outperforming their larger counterparts.

Our portfolio leads the Russell Midcap® and Russell Midcap® Growth Indices QTD. Among our top QTD contributors are Global Payments and Veeva Systems—both leading software companies which are executing impressively in their respective markets. Global Payments, a fast-growing provider of payments technology solutions for merchants, is benefiting from its direct-to-customers approach as the trend toward digital payments maintains its momentum. Veeva Systems, a leading provider of cloud-based SaaS solutions for the pharmaceutical and life sciences industries, is benefiting from broader adoption of its expanding product suite among pharmaceuticals customers—particularly within the areas of clinical-trial and clinical-data management. Both companies are good examples of the types of profit cycles we seek, and we maintain our conviction in these high-quality franchises.

Among our few negative QTD contributors is Take-Two Interactive. Shares of Take-Two, a leading video game developer, have been pressured as investors weigh the impact of new viral free-to-play hits like Fortnite and, more recently, Apex Legends, on full-price games. Though we believe Take-Two remains well-positioned to capitalize on the secular trend toward digital gaming, we have pared our exposure to fund other opportunities.

Our process is focused on identifying franchises exposed to accelerating profit cycles with reasonable valuations. It is our belief that owning companies with these characteristics should lead to outperformance over full market cycles. We will continue to adhere to this approach, regardless of the macro backdrop and how it evolves in the period ahead.

Carefully consider the Fund's investment objective, risks and charges and expenses. This and other important information is contained in the Fund's prospectus and summary prospectus, which can be obtained by calling 800.344.1770. Read carefully before investing.

International investments involve special risks, including currency fluctuation, lower liquidity, different accounting methods and economic and political systems, and higher transaction costs. These risks typically are greater in emerging markets. Securities of small- and medium-sized companies tend to have a shorter history of operations, be more volatile and less liquid and may have underperformed securities of large companies during some periods. Growth securities may underperform other asset types during a given period.

Russell Midcap[®] Growth Index measures the performance of US mid-cap companies with higher price/book ratios and forecasted growth values. Russell Midcap[®] Index measures the performance of roughly 800 US mid-cap companies. The index(es) are unmanaged; include net reinvested dividends; do not reflect fees or expenses; and are not available for direct investment.

Our capital allocation process is designed to build position size according to our conviction. Portfolio holdings develop through three stages: GardenSM, CropSM and HarvestSM. GardenSM investments are situations where we believe we are right, but there is not clear evidence that the profit cycle has taken hold, so positions are small. CropSM investments are holdings where we have gained conviction in the company's profit cycle, so positions are larger. HarvestSM investments are holdings that have exceeded our estimate of intrinsic value or holdings where there is a deceleration in the company's profit cycle. HarvestSM investments are generally being reduced or sold from the portfolios.
