Commentary

Global equity markets surged higher in Q4, with November delivering the best single-month return in over 30 years. Several COVID-19 vaccine clinical trials showed ~90% or greater effectiveness in preventing the disease, and a vaccine rollout is underway. Financials, energy and materials—sectors suffering the most in the pandemic’s depths—led, and consumer staples, health care and real estate, while positive, lagged.

Our portfolio trailed the MSCI AC World Index in Q4 though outperformed the benchmark in 2020. Among our bottom Q4 contributors were Zoom Video Communications and Boston Scientific. Zoom experienced considerable growth in 2020, though shares were pressured in Q4 as investors became increasingly concerned about elevated customer churn in 2021 (a “return to work” environment) as the vaccine is rolled out. With its customer base just a fraction of the addressable market, we believe the growth runway ahead remains compelling longer term both for video conferencing and cross-selling new products and services. That said, we have trimmed our position to a modest size to account for these near-term headwinds.

Shares of Boston Scientific were pressured alongside the cancellation of its transcatheter aortic valve product Lotus Edge. We acknowledge the modest disappointment, but we believe it will be slightly accretive to earnings in the near term. With the news more than accounted for in the share price and a strong cadence of new product launches longer term, we added to our position at an attractive valuation.

Among our top Q4 contributors were Aptiv and Pagueuro. Shares of Aptiv were pressured earlier in 2020 alongside pandemic-related supply chain disruptions and a meaningful pullback in car demand. The stock has rebounded nicely as the company has managed through this difficult period well and global economies’ gradual re-openings have spurred a rebound in the company’s fundamentals. With the secular growth drivers in active safety and high-voltage electrification gaining momentum, we remain confident in the profit cycle ahead.

Pagueuro is a provider of digital payments processing services in Brazil—akin to Square—with a focus on micro- to small-sized companies. The company’s solutions are enabling these businesses to come into the formal banking system for the first time. With a dominant market position in a lightly penetrated market and a robust banking-product offering, we believe the profit cycle ahead remains compelling.

We will discuss these and other holdings in more depth in our forthcoming quarterly commentary.

Our process is focused on identifying franchises exposed to accelerating profit cycles with reasonable valuations. It is our belief that owning companies with these characteristics should lead to outperformance over full market cycles. We will continue to adhere to this approach, regardless of the macro backdrop and how it evolves in the period ahead.

Carefully consider the Fund's investment objective, risks and charges and expenses. This and other important information is contained in the Fund's prospectus and summary prospectus, which can be obtained by calling 800.344.1770. Read carefully before investing.

Current and future portfolio holdings are subject to risk. International investments involve special risks, including currency fluctuation, lower liquidity, different accounting methods and economic and political systems, and higher transaction costs. These risks typically are greater in emerging markets. Securities of small- and medium-sized companies tend to have a shorter history of operations, be more volatile and less liquid and may have underperformed securities of large companies during some periods. Growth securities may underperform other asset types during a given period.

MSCI All Country World Index measures the performance of developed and emerging markets. The index(es) are unmanaged; include net reinvested dividends; do not reflect fees or expenses; and are not available for direct investment.

For the purpose of determining the Fund's holdings, securities of the same issuer are aggregated to determine the weight in the Fund. The discussion of portfolio holdings does not constitute a recommendation of any individual security. These holdings comprise the following percentages of the Fund's total net assets as of 31 Dec 2020: Aptiv PLC 2.2%; Boston Scientific Corp 2.6%; Pagueguero Digital Ltd 2.2%; Zoom Video Communications Inc 1.3%. Securities named in the Commentary, but not listed as a Top Ten Holding or not listed here are not held in the Fund as of the date of this report. The portfolio managers' views and portfolio holdings are subject to change and the Fund disclaims any obligation to advise investors of such changes.

Unless otherwise indicated, all information in this report includes all classes of shares, except performance and expense ratio information, and is as of the date shown in the upper right hand corner. Totals may not sum due to rounding.

Our capital allocation process is designed to build position size according to our conviction. Portfolio holdings develop through three stages: GardenSM, CropSM and HarvestSM. GardenSM investments are situations where we believe we are right, but there is not clear evidence that the profit cycle has taken hold, so positions are small. CropSM investments are holdings where we have gained conviction in the company's profit cycle, so positions are larger. HarvestSM investments are holdings that have exceeded our estimate of intrinsic value or holdings where there is a deceleration in the company's profit cycle. HarvestSM investments are generally being reduced or sold from the portfolios.
